About Helsinki

Helsinki is the capital of Finland and the largest urban area in the country. Any story about the city must begin with the sea, as Helsinki has been fundamentally shaped by its maritime environment.

Helsinki is home to around 650,000 people. More than 1.5 million inhabitants live in the larger metropolitan area, which includes the cities of Helsinki, Espoo, Vantaa, and Kauniainen. The metropolitan area is located in the greater Helsinki region, which is in turn situated in the southern Finnish province of Uusimaa. Finland is a member of the European Union (EU), and uses the euro as its currency.

Public transport connections to the airport

Commuter trains I and P operate from Helsinki Central Station to Helsinki Airport daily every 10 minutes or so. I trains operate via Tikkurila and P trains via Huopalahti.

Buses 615, 617, 415 (N), 561 and 562N operate to and from Helsinki Airport, and you can catch a bus from Helsinki Airport to many parts of the metropolitan area. Many long-distance buses also stop at the airport.

By taxi

Taxis can be ordered by phone, from taxi stands or hailed from the street. Taxi stands can be found throughout the city centre, for example outside Helsinki Central Station, around Senate Square, along Esplanade Park and at ferry terminals. Taxis are available whenever the yellow light on the roof is on. The journey between Helsinki Airport and the city centre by taxi takes approximately 20 minutes and costs around €45.

Meeting Point...

Helsinki Central Library Oodi is a living meeting place at Kansalaistori square, right at the heart of Helsinki. It is one of 37 branches of Helsinki City Library and part of the Helmet library network.

Oodi complements the cultural and media hub formed by Helsinki Music Centre, Finlandia Hall, Sanoma House and the Museum of Contemporary Art Kiasma. Oodi is a non-commercial, urban public space that is open to all, right opposite the Parliament Building.

Address: Töölönlahdenkatu 4, 00100 Helsinki

Groups and Dissemination

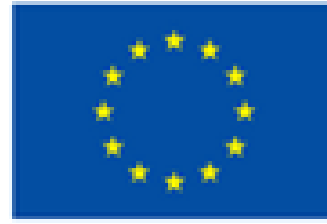

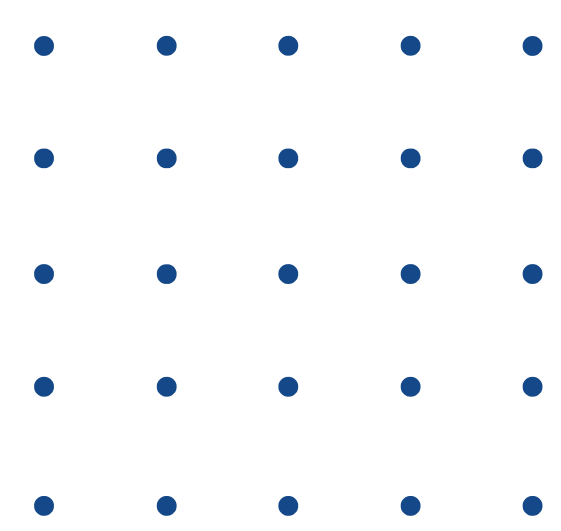

We know that disseminating the meetings and the project outputs are very crucial for the projects' evaluation.

That's why we have an offer for you!

In order to keep photos shared with each other, with high qualities, we have created a google drive folder. It will help us to keep the photos sustainably and shared easily with the ones who have storage problems on their phones :)

Please upload each picture that you will be taking during the meeting in the project folder instead of sharing via Whatsapp
